Results by person on a scale of 1 to 5: Sofía Gómez 4.6/5 (exceeds expectations); Valentina Silva 4.3/5; Diego Martínez 4.1/5; Martín Pérez 3.4/5, with an improvement plan.

Methodology

The review combines achievement of objectives, quality of work, teamwork and initiative. Each direct manager completes a form and HR consolidates the results and calibrates differences between areas.

Improvement plans

Those with a result below 3.5 agree with their direct manager on an improvement plan with concrete goals and a review at 90 days. The plan is documented in the personnel file.

Use of results

Results inform training and development decisions. Reviews are confidential and access is limited to HR.

Process calendar

The review takes place once a year. Managers complete the forms during August, HR consolidates and calibrates the results, and individual feedback sessions are held before year-end. Each person has the right to know their result and to record their comments.

Calibration criteria

To avoid differences between managers, HR compares the distributions by area and reviews extreme cases. The working conditions of each position, changes of duties during the year and the availability of objective data are considered.

Individual feedback

Feedback is given in a private meeting between the manager and the person reviewed. Strengths, opportunities for improvement and goals for the following year are highlighted and recorded on the form.

Appeals

Anyone who disagrees with their review may request a revision from HR within 10 working days after the feedback. HR analyzes the case with the manager and replies in writing.

Retention

Forms are kept in each person's personnel file with restricted access. Individual results are not shared with other areas or with colleagues.
